

Snowplow Drivers Keep Us Safe

When it snows on the highway, big trucks with scoops called snowplows push the snow out of the way so cars, buses, and trucks don't slip or get stuck. If you see a snowplow while riding in the car, stay quiet so your grown-up can drive carefully.

Snowplows are big and strong, and snow plow operators need plenty of space to work. That's why it's important for drivers to slow down, stay back at least 3 car lengths, and never pass a snowplow.

Snow plow drivers play a vital role in keeping our roads safe and functional during winter. They also face harsh weather, heavy traffic, and other challenges while doing their job.
