

CHILD SAFETY SEAT INSPECTION STATION WEBSITE

As a public service to reduce the misuse of child safety seats and to improve the safety of children traveling in motor vehicles, the National Highway Traffic Safety Administration (NHTSA) maintains a central list of locations throughout the United States where child safety seats may be inspected. This information is available to the public through NHTSA's website and can be accessed by anyone using the Internet. The website is <http://www.nhtsa.dot.gov/cps/cpsfitting/index.cfm>. A current Safe Kids-certified child passenger safety Technician or Instructor must be listed as the contact person and must supervise all child safety seat checks completed at these locations.

To include a child safety seat clinic or inspection station on the NHTSA website, please provide the following information and sign the certification statement below. You may complete and send electronically with your name typed in the signature space, email to dean.scott@dot.gov.
